TESTIMONY AT THE INQUEST

More of the lamont Girl's Effects Found Secreted in the Roof of the Church.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Theodore Durrant keeps his nerves under excel-lent control. During his waking mo-ments he gives little sign of the atrain inution and accusation. His calmness is characterized as cold blooded by physicians. His slumbers, however, are not so peaceful. Since his incorceration he has not passed an hour's quiet sleep. When he closes his eyes, he invariably when in closes a victim of nightmann and grouns and cries in his steep. The streets leading to the morgne were densely packed with a morbidly surious crowd. To prevent an attack by the mob. Darrant was taken from the city hall to the old prison an hour before the time set for the inquest. Even at that early hour the crowd was large and magry. Nothing but the presence of a strong force of policemene, when mingted with the meb and suppressed curry attempt at demonstration, prevented an attack. The createst bitterness is everywhere manifested toward Durrant, and pseudiarly by women. Many fashionably attired women sought permission to attend the inquest today.

Furrant passed through the throne of people with his head buyed down. His father, who had pressed the prisoner, came forward and shook hands with his son. Durmat carried a book into the inquest chamber, which he pretanded to read. He held the book in this left hand, but seldom turned a page. He finally closes it and devoted his attention to the body, its mutilations, the dislevel doluting and the blood-pattered room in which it lay. Hay, Lienge Gibson, pastor of Esmanane church, dearfibed the position of the remains, and told of the reception last Friday might when Durrant appeared have, with the sum at the church, and was frequently in the sametarry, when no services were held. The magnificent speciacle of the parade demonstrates that Los Angeles is equal to all occusions and can do her proad, no matter what she undertakes. Notwithstanding the immenso length and variety of the floats and other features of today's pageants, there was a zeries of ideat at represented the growth and historical changes of this locality, around which the interest entered. This is why the parade today was called the pageant of the Pacific constituted the chief interest in the parade today, it would be unjust not to state that the displays of the other seven divisions in point of aplender surpassed all the efforts in the same direction last year. The doubting Thomass who did not expect such magnificent results are all hearty in their testimonials of admiration to the gentlemen who devised the floats, and the wonderful manner in which they were executed. The linate of the pageant of the Pacific were effects affile pleasing to the oradite on account of the bistorical points they represented, and to the average person for their teilinancy and artistic effect. The conception of inving something hesides the conventional parades common in the eastern cities, where aplendor and magnificence alone were arriven for, him resulted in giving an added cost to the approximation of what how appears to be an established institution of this city—a. Whether or not this frenchman is guilty of the murders will be decided by a jury. The series of nurders of fallen women and the successful manner in which the strangfer placed the detective has become celebrated. The district attorney's office claims to have starting evidence that will prove as conclusively as is possible by circumstantial evidence that will prove as conclusively as is possible by circumstantial evidence that will prove as conclusively as is possible by circumstantial evidence that may play an important part in the trial is the information gathered from the ravings of Demady's sisley, Madame Fonchette, who suddenly became a maniac several weeks ago. It is claimed that she lost her mind hooding over her brother's arrest. She was taken to the rounty hospital and detectives spent hours listening to her demented talk. At times she would sland for hours grasping the bars of her room and her long colden hair streaming almost to the floor, and then she would break out in denunciation of Demady's accusers and talk of the crimes. At other times the glost of the strangled women would seem to appear to hur and she would suffer the wildest deliram. The trial will probably occupy about two weeks.

STOCKTON'S CONTRIBUTION, The Entire Sum Will Be in Hand

Within a Week.
Swekton, April 16.—The work of raising the money with which to purchase the property wanted in this city by the San Francisco and San Jonquin Valley San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley rathread is progressing satisfactorily and there is but little more to be eabscribed. The entire sum will be in hand within a week it is thought. Donations of $1000 from the Sparry Milling Company and over $500 from the Inth harvester works were reported fought at the meeting of the Commornial Association. The most important action of that body at today's meeting was the appointment of five treatees to represent the denors of the property and turning it over to the rathread company under such agreement he may be framed. The treatees chosen are P. R. Francy, Fred M. Week, William Inglis, Sidmy Nawell and L.S. Bustwick.

San Francism, April 10—The first experiment of sending pictures by telegraph for long distances is being made tonight by the Gall, which is receiving pictures of occurrences at La Fiesta at Les Angeles. The inventor of the syntem is Charles Willoughy of this city. The invention consists in making sketches on specially prepared sheets, which are drawn off in aquares that are numbered. The numbers are wired and the artist who receives them traces the inter of the sketch across the numbers. The picture which the Gall is receiving by wire will show the arrival of the queen of the Fiesta in Los Angeles. The picture is being cent in outline only.

Cases Where Bloodhounds Would Have Done Good Work, EDITOR REPUBLICAN:—There have been several cases lately in which the bloodhounds should have been used, especially the one Saturday night where the woman shot the lurglar through the door. In this case if I had been called apoil would have surely traited the man down in less than thirty minutes from the time I took the track. It would have been impossible for the dogs to have failed in this case, as it is the natural instinct of the bloodhound to follow the trail by the seens of the blood. They may through excitement on a hot track loss the trail for a few minutes, but in no case will they pick up the wong one.

I have had these dogs nearly four mouths, and layer not them twice a day, and with one exception they have never tailed to find the person I cent them alter.

Why is it that when a crime Is comnounds should have been used, espe falled to find the person after.

Why is it that when a crime is committed that people will exhaust every means to locate the criminal, then, after a complete failure, they will send for a policeman? Do they think he is possessed of some different power or instanct? lor a possessed of some different possessed possessed of some different possessed in the bloodhounds on any important case. I imported the dogs for businesse. They are not here for their health, and are not for sale at any price.

THE PRESIDENT'S LETTER.

President Cloveland has written a let-President Gloveland has writen a ter-ter occupying a column in a newspaper to the Chicago sound moneyles, and he who reads it with the tops of finding something to uphold the goldbug theory will turn from it with a sense of disapointment. Listen to this, for in-

What is now needed more than anying else is a plain and simple presenttion of the argument in favor of sound

Such a presentation is indeed needed, but nowhere does Mr. Oleveland present n with it. He deals in glittering gen ralities, but nowhere does he advance ent in favor of the theory to an argument in tayof of the theory to which he alheres through fair or foul weather. It would, for instance, have been a pleasing presentation if he had told us why silver, after doing one half of the world's commercial business brough countless generations, has sud-lenly become a "debased currency," ut he did not see fit to do so. It would including a brief dissertation on the value of governmental defiance of law not see fit to do so. In his full column of words was not the statement of a single fact which could by any chance solace the goldbugs. Listen to this,

Disguise as we may, the line of battle is drawn between the forces of safe cur-rency and those of silver monometal-lism.

There is the art of the special pleader in that sentence. There is no lorce of "eilver monometalliem" in this coun-try. There is nobody who demands or expects or degires the white metal only; all that is asked is that silver may all that is seed in that all the safe and again he restored to a parity of use with gold, and that the nation may again be blessed with bluetallism. But the silverites have inveighed against gold monometallism until the word has become one with which to conjure up pop-ular dislike, and so the Wall Street conthey could, turn its force against the men who have used it so efficaciously against them. Thus, and thus only have you seen the word creeping into goldbug speech of late, until finally the President has stooped to use it, all in-truthful as it is in such a connection, in "And God said, 'Let there be light,' and there was Ambrose Bierre.''—As prattled by Mr. Bierce in every Sunday's Examiner.

The individual who says that I. Wilkes Booth is still alive might be made useful in fauting Charlie Ross. It has been quite a while since Charlie has been found.

(If course it is all right to suppose that it is a piece of petrified belogma which is exhibited in a shop on Fresno street, but it is well to remember that it may all be a mistuke. Whistle to it, and see if anything wags.

In planting tegs, William, be sure that the small end is up in most cases. We had a friend once who neglected this simple rule, and as a result of thirteen chickens that he picked, thirteen were of the kind that wake which the moon rises at 11.45 o'clock to monounce to the world that it is time get up. Plant at least ten of the eggs with the small end up.

The New York board of commissioners assessed the personal property of the Gould estate at $10,000,000, which is about one-wouth of its actual value. Thereupon the Goulds moved to New Jersey in order to least the former state out of the tax. Now George Gould offers to return if the property shall be assessed at but $0,000,000. The commissioners ought to accopt the offer. The benefit of Mr. Gould's society should be worth the tax on $4,000,000 to any community.

through your hat; there are no lost souls."

The heing in black said: "Come with me, and listen."

And he took the man to what looked like a back yard, and over the rear of it was a great blackness spread. And there came to the man from out of the blackness a sound as of unniterable anguish, and a waiting of agony beyond the power of words to express, and voices of grievous torment, and they beat upon the air unit a shudder of unispeakable horror crept starward from the palpitant earth.

And the man said: "There are indeed lost souls, and I have heard their travail-cries of woe."

And to this day the man knows not that it was the leader regument of his black cat and his Marier to which he listened.

Talk about newspaper enterprise! The Examiner Sunday devoted thirty-two columns in the awful details of the recan marder in San Francisco, giving exergibing, to the most minute horror and the remotest guess bearing upon it—and it didn't have a line concerning. President Cleveland's lotter to the Chicago 'deoud money' partisans, the full text of which was published by the Call, in addition to 8 aufliciently graphic account of the murder. This may be good newspaper judgment—although it will be doubted—but it is a very poor sample of decement. The world has a right to know the circumstances of this terrible crime,

"but it is a very noor sample of decency. The world has a right to know the circumstances of this retrible crime, but it should not be invited to gloat over it, and the Examiner's method of dealing with it amounts to such an invitation. Imagine if you can some great and noble deed for the uplitting of nankind to which the "monarch" would have devoted thirty-two columns. It is impossible. Why, if Jesus of Knarreth and again appeared in the world in propria personal last Sunday, the Examiner would not have indicated three columns on the subject, and a quarter of that space would have consisted of a chalk-plate picture of "Christ before Tonline Plate." The complaints against sensational papers, in the forefront of which stands the Examiner, are justifiable.

That was the contemporary's opinion a few hours ago—would I seem cold-bearted and cruel if I should ask the Expositor for a brief synapsis of its pres opinion of the estimable Mr. Soin ney? Not done in red ink, you know, nor in lurid, Democratic language, but in plain, simple words permeated with the spirit of holy resignation.

For indeed, it was hard, this surprising and inexplicable conduct of Trustee Spinney! The hosts of the Democracy had looked to him so lovingly, so tenderly, so yearningly; even as a mothe derly, so yearningly; even as a nother thou her first-born, a lover on his sweet-heart, or a purifier on his l'opuliat. They had looked on his open, ingennous hrow, and had seid, one unto another, "Ho is our"n, even as the dempois was our in." And he ain't their'n! Team and Buggy Stolen.

Deputy Constable Crutcher received a telegram from Madera last evening, stuting that a man bad hired a lean and buggy from a livery stable there, saying that he was an insurance agent and was going out into the country to insure aoma property. It had been learned that the man was making south with the team and was trying to get away with it. Gratcher found the team and buggy in the Excelsion fivery stables. The thief had arrived in the afternoon, and left, for the south on the evening's train before the officers received the telegram.

The witness replied sharply that the state state for may one to see. What he did point out to Mr. Shart in the exhib was there for may one to see. What he did point out to Mr. Shart in the war newarded by astracting an admission from the witness trathing an admission from the witness that be bad alse examined the draft book in the county clerk's office, by leave of the count, conveyed through Mr. Short. Deputy Clerk Bush was present while the examination was made, and he (McIntosh) at no time had the draft book in the possession.

Roplying to a question by Mr. Melnosh said that in counting the leaves on the draft book he found there were fifty, including the state.

The witness was then excused. He gave place to D. O Smith, a butcher of Reedley, who was called simply to tertify that he knows Hill's valley well, and that there are trees at a point indicated on the official map in the court room. These trees are not far from the Wootton ranch, and they are chiefly cakes, He had seen evidences of teams thaving been hitched to them.

of Education.

The matter of organizing the new licent of Education seems to be a puzzling question. At the meeting of the leant on Monday night no time for effecting the organization could be agreed upon. Trustees Eden and Gallagher met for that purpose at the city half yesterday morning, but Church, Commings and Hudsell failed to turn upoleongs Monruo, the newly elected trustee, had unexpectedly been called sway to San Francisco on the morning train, which leaves at 3 c'clock.

In the evening Trustees Church and Camanings met, but some of the others come, consequently nothing was done, nor is it known when the organization of the new board will be effected.

received a copy of your estemned paper of April 7th, in which you write about my attempt to kill myself last Saturdhy night a week age. There are accent mistakes that I should like to have corrected. In the first place, you say that my father has sent mo $5000, most of which I spent in dissipation. This is not correct by any means. In January 1894 I got $2100, of which I paid $1700 shown on a twenty-are vincyand, and the rest I used in buying horses, wagon, placton, implements, got into bal company for three or four nights, and spent in the neightborhood of $60, but this is all that I wer spent in dissipation in California. Everybody who knows will tell you that I do not urink or anything of the kind. My greatent fault has been my too great hospitality and willingness to help others, and my neighbors will testly that I had my house full of company every Sunday, and i was always glad to see people. I had $800 sont me January 4th, this I had $800 some incoming vary and year, and every cont of it was used to pay on my bills and beautify my home. I have always provided well for my wile, having loved her maybe a little too well. In obthing slee proves that I have provided well for her, I think that a gracery bill and hutcher's bill for 1894 amounting to a little less than $300 will prove something.

I had my reasons for what I did that saturday night. I did not do it because I had anything to blame myself for, but because I got diagneted with the world of lies and falsehoods from persons to whom I had done nothing but good.
